OBSERVATIONS

Poor Man.

Poor man! His life is full of woes. As down the rugged path he goes. He rises at the break of day. But he starts with a sigh and a groan. He finds the cutworms in his corn. And in the fields of waving wheat. He sees the chintz bugs gaily eat. A man comes tripping off the clouds. And sells him miles of lightning rods. And with a pretty fountain pen. He signs a little contract—then. In thirty days the bank says, "You must pay your note: it's long past due." Or some smooth political hies. Oppose attack his gaily dogs. Until the man, deluded chump. Frames for himself another pump. At noon he tries to take his ease. Beneath the shade of leafy trees. But just as he begins to nap. An agent comes with a map. Or books, and he has to scan. And pay for an installment plan. Then, ere he opens his mouth to speak. He's stuck a year—two plunka week. He stands to Congress some smooth guy. Who says the tariff is too high: And while he dreams of sweet release. The fellow votes for big increase. He studies hard to learn the facts. About his state and county tax. Then votes to get some great relief. And finds he's only added grief.

He plans to take a little trip. And all his chickens take the pip. Or cholera infests his hogs. Or else attack his favorite dogs. He has a daughter and at last. He gets her wedding day well past. And finds instead of losing one. He's only gained another son.

Poor man! His life is full of ills. And he groans and sobs and sighs. His frame is choked with creaks and aches. His course is full of foolish breaks. He grows up like a Spanish vine. And winds down like a piece of twine. Poor man! No matter how he jumps. He's due to get some awful bumps.

SHORT CROP.—Contrary to what was expected, the tobacco crop in the county this year, promises to be somewhat light. Some crops are being cut this week and while it is believed that the crop will be of a fairly good grade, the yield per acre will not be so large as that of last year.

The continuous wet weather has prevented the proper cultivation of the crop, so that a short dry spell, will cause it to "fire" badly, and necessitate the early cutting of it. But while the number of pounds raised will be much less than anticipated, the amount realized will probably be more than if there had been a large yield. Those who have a crop of tobacco may reasonably expect to receive a good price for his appearances do not now indicate that the market will be overcrowded.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—Thus far the only Magisterial District in which there promises to be any contest for the Democratic nomination for Magistrate is in that composed of Springfield, No. 9, and Fredericktown. In this there are two candidates namely, Mr. John A. Medley and Wm. Willett, opposing each other for the nomination and as nomination is equivalent to election in this District the candidates are doing some live hustling this week, are confident of success. But while either who wins will have no large majority and each is using his best efforts to be "Squire." The best of good feeling prevails and the friends of each believe that the county's interest will be safe in the hands of either.

The Conventions will take place in each Magisterial District on next Saturday at 2:30 p.m. standard time. In all the Districts except No. 9 and Fredericktown no contest is expected, as but one candidate has offered in these districts. It is advised that Conventions in the respective districts be called to order promptly at the hour specified in the call, and all persons desiring to vote should be there on time.

Get DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve when you ask for it. There are a great many imitations, but there is just one original. This salve is good for anything where a salve is needed to be used, but it is especially good for Piles. Sold by Red Cross Drug Store.

Struck Natural Gas.

Some weeks since Mr. Mark Thomas, Sr., who lives about a mile from Calvary and who, by the way, is one of the cleverest men in Marion county, decided to have an artesian well. The drilling commenced last week and on Thursday night, a strange flow of gas was struck, at the depth of 140 feet. The drilling continued but no longer with the desire for water. At 200 feet the flow of gas was steady and when tested produced a beautiful clear light, over eight feet high. Mr. Thomas was in Lebanon Wednesday and stated that his driller thought the flow of gas was sufficient now to supply the distillery and the pump station with power for their plants and that they were confident gas in sufficient quantity would be found to supply all Lebanon with light and heat.—The Falcon.

Life 100,000 Years Ago.
Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men, who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. Today the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown of Alexander, Mo., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes, "after I was laid out from a severe lung trouble and stomach trouble." To cure Sore Lungs, Coughs, obstructed Glands, and prevent Pneumonia, in the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by Haydon & Barber. Trial bottle free.

Big Apple Crop

The apple crop is turning out extra well in Hardin county and big shipments are being made from the railroad stations. The Reynoldsville Milling Company is turning out from 400 to 500 apple barrels a day, but the fruit is being shipped in such large quantities that the Mill Co. is behind with barrels orders. James M. Rhin and Talbot & Talbot are shipping from forty to fifty barrels a day from Elizabeth town while in many other towns in the county the shipments are fully as large. Good fruit is being the growers fifty cents per barrel delivered. —The News.

Gov. Wilson's Blunder

Gov. Wilson is continually going himself in hot water and he is hardly out of one thing before he is in another. His latest mistake was to form a law partnership with Louisville. The lawyers all over the State who are not criticizing this are laughing at the Governor. Wilson is a lawyer himself therefore the blunder is less excusable. The statutes positively prohibit the Governor of the State from engaging in any other business while he is Governor and Wilson is the first man who has ever filled the Executive Chair to violate this statute by forming a law partnership. He was considerably censured for winding up some of his old cases after he became Governor instead of turning them over, as his predecessors have always done, to some other lawyers, but this thing of forming a law partnership when he has more than two years to serve is absolutely inexcusable.—Elizabethtown News.

High Water.
The big rain last Saturday night made Chapin river rise higher than was ever known and about fifty people, unable to return home from services at Deep Creek church because of the high water, were obliged to remain at the church all night long. The home of George Patterson, within 200 yards of the church, was surrounded by water for the first time in its history and the water got two feet deep on the lower floors. The family took refuge in the upper story. Mr. Patterson had four fine fox hounds and they took shelter under the flooring and, three of them unharmed and flushed out but the fourth one seemed to be on felled with more sagacity than his canine brethren and made a long dive, came up on the outside snoring like a whale and swam to safety. "In the same neighborhood Ike Lewis had a horse and mule killed by a stroke of lightning on the same night."—Harrodsburg Herald.

Bill Offered to Erect $125,000 Building.

Representative Helm last week introduced a bill for the establishment of a national military park at Perryville, Ky. The Secretary of War is authorized to cause tablets and markers to be erected showing the positions and movements of troops in the historic engagement that took place at Perryville.

Mr. Helm also introduced a bill appropriating $125,000 for the erection of a government building at Lawrenceburg, Ky. on site already owned by the government.—Spencer Courier.

Bees Washed Away.

Mr. George Morris, of Cornishville, had sixty stands of bees just washed from the high water. Mr. Morris's apiary is located in a creek bottom where it has been for years and was never before molested by an overflow. The flood left him only a dozen stands.—Harrodsburg Herald.

LEBANON LOCALS.

From the Enterprise.
Mrs. Mary Joe Ford, wife of Brady Ford, died Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at the home of her grandfather, James Behan, at Bradfordville, after an illness of several months with tuberculosis. She was 23 years of age.

Polk Robertson had a narrow escape from drowning last Saturday night. He was returning home between 11 and 12 o'clock after the hard rain which had put all the small streams of that section on hot. He had to cross Hot Water creek, near Alleton, and after he had driven into the water which he saw was very high, but he believed he could ford safely, he felt his buggy going down stream. A few seconds later the vehicle was upset and it and his horse were washed under a watergate. He was thrown into the stream but managed to swim ashore. The horse in some way succeeded in getting loose from the vehicle and it was saved. The buggy was a wreck.

Mr. George Elder, of this city, died suddenly at his home on High Street Monday, August 2, 1909, of heart disease. The deceased had been in bad health and a sufferer from organic heart trouble for many years, but on Monday and for several days before he seemed to be in better spirits and felt better than usual. He met his brother, John, that morning at the train and an hour or so before he ended the regular daily services at St. Augustine's church. With his sister, Mrs. Ellen, and his brother, John, he was eating dinner and the best of good cheer prevailed when suddenly death's messenger visited the happy group and in a minute carried away the older member. Mrs. Ellen noticed him swoon and ran quickly to his side, catching him in her arms as he fell, and before other assistance could be called his heart was silent in death. Mr. Elder was 71 years old last March and was the son of the late James Elder who lived on Hardin's Creek.

Passenger train, No. 23, the fast train that passes through at 9:58 a.m., was wrecked as it turned a curve, at Perry, near Livingston, yesterday shortly after noon, and baggage-master, T. B. Anderson, of Louisville, was killed instantly. Mack Mattingly, formerly of this city, the express messenger was slightly injured. The engineer and fireman were also slightly hurt. All the passengers escaped without injury. The tender, baggage car and smoker were derailed and after ploughing through the soft earth for some distance rolled by level. Over. Trains going north were delayed several hours by the wreck. It is not known what caused the cars to leave the track.

Lived 152 Years.

Wm. Parr—England's oldest man—celebrated the third time at 152, in the fields till 122 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80. James Whittier of Springfield, Ky. shows how to remain young. "I feel just like a sixteen year-old boy," he writes, "after taking six bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth." They're a good tonic, weak, sickly, run-down or old people. Try them. See Mayo & Robertson Druggists.

How It Works.

A Winchester man with a peculiar impediment in one of his eyes which causes the eye to wink rapidly three to five times in succession and then a brief stop before beginning again met with a funny incident while in a local option town on business this week. He had a severe attack of colic and stepped into a drug store to get a remedy to relieve the trouble. The clerk came forward, caught the automatic violation of the eye and without a word went behind the prescription case, brought out a stiff drink and said, " fifteen cents." Our Winchester friend handed over the money and took the drink. Three more drug stores were visited, and that cabalistic sign brought three more drinks, but the Winchester man was yet undecided whether the "correct" sign was three or five winks, and as it was a pretty fair article of Winchester whiskey that had been shipped in, and as it had been colic, after the second drink he was in a condition that he didn't much care—Winchester Democrat.

Tortured On A Horse.

"For ten years I couldn't ride a horse without being in torture from piles," writes N. S. Napier, of Russell, Ky. "when doctors and other remedies failed, Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me." Infants for Piles, Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Blisters, Eczema, all Rheum, Cancers. Guaranteed by Haydon & Robertson.

The Swastika

The swastika is a religious emblem which has been handed down from prehistoric times. It was in use in India fifteen centuries before the Christian era, and appeared in Europe about the middle of the bronze age, and was in use among the earliest inhabitants of North America. Five perfect swastika crosses of hammered brass are found in a mound in Ohio. The swastika is emblematic of the Deity and is used as a talisman or charm, being the symbol for benediction, blessing, good health, long life, good fortune and prosperity.—Ex.

Cudden Turn It.
The eye of little Willie's teacher was and sorry, for, notwithstanding that he was her favorite pupil, he stood before her, convicted of a most serious charge of a theft of candy from a fellow pupil. It was a first offense, however, and she did not desire to inflict corporal punishment. A moral lecture she thought would fit the case.
"Bear in mind, Willie," she concluded, "that three temptations can be resisted if determination is used. All ways turn a deaf ear to temptation." Little Willie's lip trembled.
"But, teacher," he answered, "I ain't got a deaf ear."

Making Hubby Appreciative.
A doctor tells of a note he received from a woman saying that her husband, who was about to make a professional call, found her constant fault with the dinner she prepared for him.
She appealed to the physician for aid.
The doctor examined his patient, who had a slight attack of indigestion, and told him to cut out mushrooms, to eat nothing but a slice of toast and a cup of tea. The scheme worked excellently. Of course hubby returns home in the evening, eats everything in sight and his wife's cooking even better than mother used to make.—Boston Record.

Thrifty.
A Scotsman and his wife were traveling from Leith to London by boat.
When off the Yorkshire coast a great storm arose, and the vessel had several narrow escapes from foundering.
"Oh, Sandy," moaned his wife, "I'm na afraid o' death, but I dinna care to die at sea."
"Dinna think o' death yet," answered Sandy; "but when ye do, ye'd better be drowned at sea than anywhere else."
"Ain't why, Sandy?" asked his wife.
"Why?" exclaimed Sandy. "Because ye wouldna cost me nuckle to bury."

Over Embankment

On yesterday morning a serious accident occurred in the Sharpsville neighborhood, and Earl Hale the 13-year-old son of Sam D. Hale miraculously escaped drowning in a terrible manner. The boy in company with his grandfather, Mr. Ed Masters, had started in a buggy with a turn of wheat to the mill at Sharpsville. Finding on arriving at Sharpsville that the mill was not running, Mr. Masters got out of the buggy and directed the boy to take the wheat to Mr. John Brown's mill on a hill just a short distance from Sharpsville. The boy started alone and had just crossed the bridge which spans Chaplin river at this point, when the horse, from some cause became frightened and began backing. Just as the buggy was tilting over a fourteen foot embankment the boy leaped from the vehicle, and it was a timely leap for no sooner had he done so than buggy and horse together went over the embankment into the waters of the river below. The horse was drowned and the buggy completely demolished.

Quarantine Coming.

Governor Augustus E. Wilson has received from the Department of Agriculture at Washington the following telegram:

Washington, Aug. 10.—The Hon. A. E. Willson, Governor of Kentucky, Frankfort, Ky.: One hundred and twenty six shipments of sheep from Kentucky found infected with scab-bles during the past year. Emmently important that other states be protected without delay.
Quarantine on Kentucky effective 10th instant. Proposed activity on the part of local authorities and sheep owners commended, and I trust the effort will result in the control and eradication of the disease in order that the Federal quarantine may be speedily removed.

W. M. Hays,
Acting Secretary.

It had been the hope of the state officials and all other persons interested in the welfare of the state irrespective of whether they were sheep owners, or not, that this much devoted measure might be averted. And it is indeed a severe blow to the state for sheep raising has always been one of its chief industries.

While a most unfortunate state of affairs exists, the sheep growers of the state are not entirely blameless. It has been found that dipping is a successful preventive and cure for the disease, and for a time the practice of dipping was almost universal, but it is a notice-able fact that during the past year, in our county as well as other parts of the State that many sheep raisers have sadly neglected to take any precautions to prevent or cure the disease in their flocks. Now that the quarantine has been declared, and will soon go into effect, unless something can be done to prevent it, which is not probable, the only thing to do is for everyone to join in an effort to speedily stamp out the disease, so that the time of the quarantine may be as brief as possible.

A Word to the Farmer.

The farmers of the Bluegrass counties, at great risk to themselves, raised the price of tobacco in 1908, from six cents to nine and one-half. From nine and one-half to sixteen cents in 1907 and in 1908 out their crop because the American Tobacco Company claimed to have a seven years surplus on hand.
That surplus is used up and the 1907 crop sold at sixteen cents per pound, and now when it is all over but the shouting, the farmers of Washington county join hands with the American Tobacco Company, in a Loose Leaf Market to oppose these same farmers, claiming they can get twelve cents per pound in this way.

With seventy-five per cent of the Burley people pooled we can demand any price, say we demand only eighteen cents that would bring into Washington county this year $300,000 more than it sold at twelve cents,

It farmers are as anxious to make prices as to take them, they will get with one of these organizations at once or make one of their own; this latter would perhaps be better as you might choose a president from your own ranks who would work for fame instead of a salary.
